Become a Member of Sask Alpine

Thank you for your interest in becoming a Member of Alpine Saskatchewan. Whether you are a Parent, racer or just a fan we would love to have you. Have you ever wondered why you should become a member? Well, it's fun for starters. Being a member of Sask Alpine puts you in contact with like-minded people. We all love the sport of skiing and camaraderie the sport garners on the hill. Our members are supportive of all the athletes and like to see our athletes improve every year. Many of us our officials and enjoy helping at the races and festivals. Some members become coaches so they can help coach the athletes of all ages to become better skiers. Some volunteer to have hot chocolate ready in the chalet to keep our little racers warm and happy. There are all kinds of bonuses when you become a member of Sask Alpine.

First you will need to find a club closest to your community. At this time there are clubs in Duck Mountain, Qu'Appelle Valley, Regina, North Battleford, Wapiti Valley and Prince Albert. You can contact our Sask Ski office for a club contact number closest to you or you can check for a club website link on the Sask alpine website. Once you become a member of a club you will need to complete the ACA form to be signed and turned in to our Sask Ski office. Your new club will help you out with all this information. The ACA form will give you a little more insurance on the hill as a fan or volunteer or racer. You will then be a full-fledged member of Alpine Canada, which will keep you up to date with the National Teams as well as any information coming from our NSO. Another benefit to becoming a member is the people that you will meet from around the province. We are a very family oriented group that enjoys being out in the snow and having a good time.

Before you leave our site please make sure to become a member of our web site. This will ensure that you get all the up to date Sask alpine information. We send email blasts out to our members with reminders as well as updates to events and news items. We are so excited to have you as part of our team. Welcome to Sask Alpine, see you on the hill!
